Dear Chris,

Thank you very much for meeting with me at La Trobe University to discuss the Freedom Housing project for people living with disabilities. One of the impressive things about this project is that it enables families to stay together through time and provides a supportive and positive environment where therapists and communal living contribute to independence and quality of life.

We would be very interested in keeping in touch with you about this project and there are probably research or program evaluation opportunities too whereby our two organizations could work together.

All the best with the project and please keep us in mind for future collaborations as disability, rehabilitation and social care are main foci for us.

With kind regards
Meg
