Dear Chris,

Re: Freedom Housing Concept

Please accept our warmest gratitude for the opportunity to be part of such an innovative and important project. The term "Freedom" is so apt in expressing the impact and potential for those in our community whose lives are turned upside down by way of incapacity and dependence.

I have witnessed at first hand the impact of MS upon my dear friend John and his family. His fast transformation from being an active and vibrant individual to being a dependant and bed ridden patient. The change of his physical and mental state in learning to adjust. The shortcomings of his home environment. The intrusions of routine medical care and therapy requirements into their normal family life.

The concept offers a wonderful opportunity to re-dress some of these and to give back to the family some of the Freedom to once again enjoy a quality of life. Freedom to enjoy dignity. Freedom to know that your physical needs are met. Freedom to be within a comfortable and secure environment. Freedom to continue your friendships and community links. A concept that empowers people. A concept that breaks down institutional walls and nurtures and assists families to adapt. A concept that once again unites people in a community of caring.

I truly believe that this idea has the power to transform the way we think of housing and of care. I wish you every success in realizing the dream.

Yours faithfully,

Nicholas Daviotis
